* The contents of internship through modules and types of practical activities shall be FULLY reflected in the student's internship report.

During the period of internship in the investigative divisions of the Investigative Committee, as per the agreement with the head of the structural unit responsible for internship, the student studies the criminal cases processed by the investigator; as well as the case classification plan and control proceedings, draws up an investigation plan for a specific case, plans to conducting individual investigative actions and takes part in their implementation; may be involved in an investigative action as a participant (attesting witness, statistician), drafts procedural documents.

During the period of internship in the prosecutor's office, in agreement with the internship supervisor, the student can study criminal cases requested and received from the investigating authorities, and inquiries, nomenclature cases and supervisory proceedings; draws up prosecutorial check plans in preliminary investigation and inquiry bodies; drafts appeal and cassation submissions; takes part in criminal court hearings and judicial control; participates in the process of obtaining evidence. If possible, the student participates in the inspection of compliance with laws in detention facilities, as well as in pre-trial detention facilities and during the execution of punishment.

During the internship in the bar association, the student may get acquainted with the document flow after obtaining the agreement from the internship supervisor, participate in the investigative and judicial actions carried out by an advocate and take part in other activities of advocates.

The student must study the forms of cooperation that exists between the investigatory bodies and bodies of enquiry, learn about the framework, based on which a prosecutor supervises implementation of law by the bodies of enquiry and pre-trial investigation as well as the organisational aspects of advocacy, understand the process of record keeping in the prosecutor's office, investigative units and bar associations.

7. INTERNSHIP LOCATION AND TIMELINE

Work Experience (Investigation-Prosecution) Internship, can take one of the following forms: archival, office, judicial, field, or mixed, depending on the location, the specifics of the activities of the structural unit of the prosecutor's office, the investigative unit or the bar association, as well as the current tasks solved by these bodies.

Organization of internship consists of students being assigned a head of practice from the relevant structural unit of the prosecutor's office, the investigative unit or the bar association.

The internship supervisor plans, organizes and controls the activities of the student, entrusting them with completing specific tasks outlined by this syllabus. The student carries out the duties of a trainee, participating in the law enforcement activities of their supervisor throughout the entire period of internship.

The following criteria should be applied in choosing internship venues:

availability of:

- highly qualified specialists;
- modern material and technical base;
- modern educational and methodical complexes;
- modern software.

For people with group I, II and III disabilities, and persons with other types of impairment, the internship is established taking into account the specifics of their psychological and physical development, individual abilities, and general health.

Form of Technological (Investigative and Prosecutorial) Internship: stationary.

The venues of Technological (Investigative and Prosecutorial) Internship are:

- Moscow Prosecutor's Office and its structural subdivisions;
- Investigative Committee of the Russian Federation and its structural subdivisions;
- Ministry of Internal Affairs of the Russian Federation and its structural subdivisions

Technological (Investigative and Prosecutorial) Internship is takes place in the fourth year (the seventh) semester for full-time students.

In the case of other internship venues being compliant with the syllabus of Internship and after the permission has been granted by the Law Institute Director, the student can undergo internship on an individual basis in other law enforcement agencies or organizations located on the territory of Moscow. Also, a student can choose a different place of internship, for example, prosecutor's offices of the Russian Federation constituents or other administrative and territorial divisions based on residence, foreign citizens have the right to complete the internship in the country of their citizenship in order to study the legislation in more detail, if this contributes to the completing the goals and tasks of Technological (Investigative and Prosecutorial) Internship and the formation of competences listed in the internship syllabus.

The procedure for organizing individual internships is governed by the Regulations for individual field internships, approved by the Order № 432 of the RUDN University Rector of 10.05.2016. In order to have an individual internship, the student must write an application to the Director of the Law Institute before the internship with a request to allow the internship on the basis of the enterprise/organization of their choice, indicating the reason for the student's choice of the venue. The application written by the student is endorsed by the internship supervisor of Criminal Law, Criminal Proceedings and Forensics, which constitutes the permission given by the Head of Internship regarding the compliance of the venue with the internship syllabus and its ability to help the student to form the competences in the Technological (Investigative and Prosecutorial) Internship Syllabus.

A student may be denied an internship on an individual basis if:

- the venue does not correspond to the education field;
- the venue does not correspond syllabus requirements or does not contribute to the competence formation.

After receiving the permission of the Head of the Department to do the internship on an individual basis, the student signs an agreement between RUDN University and the enterprise/organization. The application and the internship agreement signed by the Head of the Department are submitted to the Law Institute Director.
